

Click link:

Gerontological Nursing: Competencies for Care 5th Edition

"Gerontological Nursing: Competencies for Care, 5th Edition," authored by M. H. Jones and published by Jones & Bartlett Learning, is an essential resource designed for nursing professionals aiming to enhance their knowledge and skills in the care of older adults. With the ISBN 9781284193069, this comprehensive guide offers a detailed exploration of the competencies necessary for effective gerontological nursing practice, integrating current evidence-based research with practical applications. This edition features updated content reflecting the latest developments in the field, including innovative strategies for managing complex health issues faced by the aging population. It emphasizes the importance of a patient-centered approach and culturally competent care, providing readers with valuable insights into the physiological, psychological, and social aspects of aging. Through case studies and real-world examples, the book illustrates the multifaceted challenges gerontological nurses encounter and presents essential skills for communication, assessment, and intervention tailored to individual patient needs. Ideal for both novice and experienced nurses, this text serves as a foundational tool in advancing geriatric care, fostering a deeper understanding of the unique requirements of older adults, and promoting quality of life through effective nursing practices. With its engaging writing style and accessible format, "Gerontological Nursing: Competencies for Care, 5th Edition" is a vital addition to any nursing curriculum or professional library, ensuring that practitioners are well-equipped to meet the demands of this ever-growing demographic. Whether you're preparing for a career in gerontological nursing or seeking to enhance your existing knowledge, this book is a must-have resource for achieving excellence in the field.