Online Massage Therapy Diploma

The New Zealand College of Chinese Medicine is the only private training provider in New Zealand to offer the Level 5 NZ Diploma in Wellness and Relaxation Massage nationally by Blended Learning (Distance Learning and Block courses).

This provides learners with choice and flexibility about when and where they study and enables much greater access to this NZQA approved massage qualification.

This mode of learning delivery combines distance learning with short block courses on campus and enables students to learn most of what they are required to know at times and in locations which best suit their needs.

"This offer benefits students in both urban and rural locations by offering the flexibility to study from home and at times to suit their life commitments," says Student Services Manager, Peter Coddington.

"This therefore opens the door to studying a professional qualification in massage therapy to a whole range of people who otherwise would not be able to enrol as they cannot attend face to face classes at the times they are offered."

additional intake starting September 21, 2020. In the current environment this provides an excellent retraining opportunity to those who wish to develop a career in the health sector.

The diploma is a one-year full time course and includes: Biomedical Science, Massage Clinical Science, and Clinical Practicum. Students may study part time if they wish.

The course design, which fully meets industry standards, provides distance learning modules in theory and four "on campus" block modules offered at the College's Greenlane campus. These block courses ensure students meet the supervised practical requirements to register as a massage therapist with Massage New Zealand and to competently provide quality services to local communities.

The programme is taught by very experienced teaching staff and aims to produce graduates who are equipped with the knowledge and skills required for effective professional clinical practice in wellness and relaxation massage therapies. Graduates will obtain the latest internationally recognised qualification in this field and open the door to a wide range of jobs in home-based massage therapy, mobile clinics, retail malls or multi-disciplinary clinics or spa-based massage therapy clinics.

The College is also offering an additional September intake for:

- the Bachelor of Health Science degree in acupuncture and Chinese medicine
- the Level 7 Diploma in Tuina (Chinese Therapeutic Massage)
- and for NZCEL English level 4 (Academic).

Each programme offers retraining opportunities and good employment prospects or pathways to further training for people who are having to refocus on new skills and work opportunities.

Courses start on September 21st. Early payment discounts are available. The next Open Day is on the 2nd of September.
